Peter Allard is the twin brother of Chuck Allard for whom we already do work. They are both very wealthy and create all sorts of legal work and are the kind of clients we want to look for. Peter has a big problem in the Barbados where he has a house and has set up a wild life sanctuary. He has hired Gowlings to try to tackle the Bilateral International Treaty angle and me to tackle the litigation angle. He is sending a cheque for $5000 at my request to cover travel costs as I am off to Barbados overnight on Wednesday to see some people and review his legal file so we are taking the hit for the travel costs (about $2800 airfare etc - I am staying at Peter's house) until the cheque arrives. This looks like a good money maker file so I want to take the risk and will pay the disbursement myself if the cheque does not materialize as per our usual arrangement.

Regards, Bill
